

“Harding Shymanski helped us develop a roadmap for ensuring the future success of our company.”

- Greg Koberstein, CEO

“Inefficiencies and roadblocks were preventing our company from moving to the next level of success. We had tried working through various issues on our own, but found that day-to-day operations and other pressing matters took precedence over planning for our own future success.”

We found ourselves at a cross-roads of trying to determine a successful strategy for the business and finding ways to build upon the many successes we had already experienced...we knew we needed guidance to achieve future success. We had worked with third parties before and found that their assessment did not include assistance with the implementation of a plan and an ongoing relationship did not exist; therefore, we were weary of entering into another relationship with a firm we were unfamiliar with.

Upon our attorney’s recommendation, we contacted Harding, Shymanski & Company to perform a client business review for the Company. One year later we have a roadmap for ensuring the future success of the company.

By working closely with HSC, we were able to develop a plan to increase overall efficiencies, obtain benchmarking reports to see how we stacked up against our competitors, obtain a written business plan to guide our business decisions and aide with the remediation of the internal roadblocks impeding the overall success of our Company and we have even switched our audit and tax services to HSC!

I would highly recommend HSC for all your consulting, audit and tax needs.” – Greg Koberstein, CEO
