

“I consider Harding, Shymanski
one of our most valuable tools.”

Jeff Happe

“As a General Contractor we use a lot of fundamental tools to build projects, but I consider Harding, Shymanski one of our most valuable tools.

They have been so much more than accountants for us. We have utilized their contractor business team members and their consulting services to improve our safety program, update our employee manuals, and help us to identify and fix challenges in our internal operations.

Harding, Shymanski knows and understands our industry, but more importantly our business needs. I have peace of mind knowing that I can depend on them to step in and assist our company when and where needed.

Their professionals are honest and straightforward with their advice, whether it is something you might enjoy hearing or not; I find tremendous value in that.”
